POSITION: Broadcasting Assistant
TITLE: INTERN
SALARY: $0

Company: SUV TV - TV Broadcasting business

Description

August 2017-December 2017 (Fall Semester)

January 018-May 2018 (Spring Semester)

Possible Summer as well

Unpaid in and around Atlanta. If outside Atlanta area travel is required, you will be paid.

Looking for serious students that want to get their foot in the door with a highly successful broadcasting company. We were the first to ever broadcast the NIKE EYBL, Ludacris Day Foundation events, as well as other high profile events in Atlanta. We are the preferred broadcasting company for high school basketball, AAU events and Lacrosse events in Metro Atlanta.

There are 3 areas that the interns will rotate through -

1. Live Production
2. Social Media
3. Sports Marketing and Event planning

Looking for students that want to learn and gain experience both behind the camera and on camera.

- Social Media & Marketing
- Camera operation
- Production
- Play by play (must be willing to do camera work)
- Analyst (must be willing to do camera work)
- Side line (must be willing to do camera work)

Responsibilities

- Social Media & Marketing

Learning how to market the events that we are broadcasting

Writing daily recaps of the events and updating social media

- Camera operation

Understanding angles and where to capture the best moments

- Production

Operating a tri-castor and being able to communicate to camera operators what shot you need & when

- Play by play broadcaster

You may not be the next the great PXP person yet, but you have a passion for broadcasting and are willing to learn

- Analyst broadcaster

You understand the nuances of the game that you are broadcasting and want to learn how to be an color analyst

- Side line reporter

The ability to ask pointed questions with coaches and players and can add important info to the broadcast

All skill levels welcome. There will be teaching involved in every position. You will not be expected to know how to operate or perform any of the above duties. We do expect our interns to be hungry to learn and open minded enough to accept what is being taught by industry professionals that have broadcasted more than 10,000 games.

Requirements

Prefer this to be for course credit, however, will make exception for the RIGHT person. We have just found over our 4 years of our internship program, that those that are required to obtain course credit are harder working and reliable. Must be willing to work in hot and humid environments. We are a sports broadcasting company and sports take place in hot gyms and fields at times. There are weekday responsibilities, however, the bulk of the hours of this internship are Friday, Saturday & Sunday as these are the days that games are played.

QUALIFICATIONS NEEDED:

Looking for students with a passion for sports broadcasting. Must be willing to put forth the effort that it takes to learn, plan, market and produce the elite level of broadcasts that The SUV TV is known for. Prefer students looking for college credit, but that is not a requirement. We understand that sometimes even great students have short comings.
